ABOUT ME

As a Self-Taught, I am aware of the coding best practices and design patterns that make my work easier. My main focus is on React.js along with Next.js, which I use for creating dynamic projects, together with TailwindCSS. When writing Javascript, I am trying to keep my code as clean as possible and use modern ES6 features that make my work a lot easier. With Styled Components I write modular styles that are easier to maintain and offer much more flexibility in comparison with basic React styles. I see teamwork as a key part of deploying successful projects, that's why I am familiar with the GIT and GitHub. Recently I started discovering Next.js which lets me create SSG and also SSR websites which are fast and SEO friendly.

MY INTENTIONS

One of the main reasons I apply for this job offer at D42 is the possibility to extend my skills in React and implement my knowledge in a real field, where I can learn from others and others learn from me
